AFFAIRS OF THE DISTRICT

Granting of Hotel Licenses Review ed in Opposition to a Previous Opinion-Schedules of Takoma Park Cars - Fires During Last Month.

A. E. Shoemaker, attorney for the Antibia, vesterday submitted to the Commisioners a communication in the nature of a review and reply to a recently submitted opinion of the Attorney for the District. The opinion pertains to the right of the Excise Board to grant a licease to sell liquor to a hotel which has complied with all the requirements of the iaw, but has a bad reputation as the relong as there is no actual violation of th ceise law. The question also involved a cond, which was that if the former toposition should be answered in the af-ricative, the Excise Board has discreonary judgment as to what constitute

The opinion of the Attorney was b effect that when the hotel has complied with the requirements of the law it is entitled to a license, and that the questio of its being the resort of bad characters is a matter for police cognizance. The Attorney states that a bad reputation of a hotel would not warrant the Excise Board in withholding a license if the re-quirements of the law otherwise were omplied with

In his communication to the Commis sioners Mr. Shoemaker says that much of the Attorney's reasoning is thoroughly in accordance with his own views, but he thinks that the Atterney fails to carry his reasonings to their ultimate conclusion. Mr. Shoemaker admilts that a hotel having the requisite number of rooms for lodging guests has the right to a barlodging guests has the right to a barthinks that the Atterney fails to carry recon license, but he maintains that it must be a hotel in the proper sense of the term under the law. It must have Avenue, recently addressed the Commis-As quoted, the court said that it was the duty of the Excise Board to determine whether the applicant for a license is in fact and in good faith the owner or lessee of a hotel and whether the house is in the sense of the law an established hotel. Mr. Shoemaker says that it is clearly the duty of the Excise Board to investigate the character of any hotel that seeks a liquor license, and that they must be satisfied that it is an "estab-

or tavern has a 'bad reputation, if it is nue. If such be the case they ask that a resort of disreputable characters, and the improvement of the street be begun if unmarried couples register as man and as soon as possible wife, and with the knowledge of the proprietor occupy the same room and bed, it is an immoral house, and an immoral house is a disorderly house.

Mr. Shoemaker submits a long argument to show that the opinion of the Attorney for the District is untenable, and sums up the matter as follows: The Court of Appeals in the case of Washington vs. Johnson, better known as the Douglas House cause, decided it to be the duty of the Excise Board to investigate and determine whether or not a house purporting to be a hotel and applying for a barroom license is in the proper sense an 'established hotel' before granting it a license.

art of Appeals in the same case decided that the Excise Board did their upon investigation they found that it was license to the Douglas Hotel, because upon investigation they found that it was an immoral or disorderly house, and not in the proper sense a hotel or tovern.

"The statement of facts submitted by the Excise Board make the house in question an immoral house in the same sense as was the Douglas House, and as such is not entitied to a license.

"The Excise Board should op-operate with the Police Department in so far as may be in their power in the task of suppressing disorderly houses such as a house used primarily and regularly as a place of assignation or as a bawdy house with the full knowledge of the proprietor, and to this end they should refuse to issue liquor license to them.

"The clause in the concluding paragraph of section 5 of the act of 18%, prohibiting the Excise Board from revoking the 11-cense of the keeper of a disorderly or disreputables one until he may be concided of keeping such house does not apply directly to the chase in question.

Mr. Shoemaker submits that in view of these considerations it is the duty of the Excise Board to refuse to issue a license to sell liquor to the house in question so long as it is conducted in the manner alleged.

The Brightwood Railway Company and

The Brightwood Railway Company and the Washington, Woodside and Forest Glen Railway Company recently sub-mitted to the Commissioners a schedule of operating cars on the said railroads and asked that it be favorably considered. The schedule was practically the one in operation on those roads for several months past. An inspection was made months past. An Inspection was made and though it was reported that the schedule seemed to satisfy the requirements of travel it was apparently confirmy to the requirements of the charter of the company. The question was referred to the Attorney for the District and he yesterday submitted his opinion has follows:

The proposed schedule appears to comply with the charter regularements at all hours of the day for that portion of the line from Florida Avenue to the junction to Takoma Park and from the junction to the District line the schedule interval exceeds the charter limits by fiften minutes at all hours of the day except from 5:10 to 7:25 n.m. and from 4:10 to 8 p. m.

as it would be to pick out a dollar bill from a pile containing several. J. Fill-more Warder, however, seems to be of the opinion that he is solid upon the question of identifying his bathing suit left at the Bathing Beach a vear ago. He has written to the Commissioners and has asked to have the garments restored to him.

Mr. Warder states that the Bathing Beach closed for the season without his knowledge. He desires now to know what, if any, charges will be required to recover the property.

An amendment to the constitution was adopted which tends to make the "Building Trades Section" a most important feature of the union. Heretofore the section was composed of one representative from each of the building trades affiliated with the union. The amendment provides that the number of representatives in the section shall be increased to three, one of which shall be a delegate to the Central Labor Union and the others delegates coming direct from the trades unions with which they are connected.

Delegates from the Fraternal Brother-hood of Hoisting and Portable Engineers were admitted and obligated. It was stated by a member of the engineers union that the difference which existed between the holating engineers and the Stationary Engineers, No. 14, have been amicably adjusted, and that the latter organization has endorsed the application of the former for a charter in the international Union of Steam Engineers. This condition of affairs, it was stated, was the result of a conference between Messrs Milford Spohn, W. E. Kennedy, and John Lorch. belonging to S. A.
